BI-MONTHLY NEWS FROM THE CITY OF UPPER ARLINGTON, UPPER ARLINGTON SCHOOLS & UPPER ARLINGTON PUBLIC LIBRARY

ENVISION HENDERSON

Phase 1 Updates

For much of 2024, the City is focusing on its northern edge, as it works to develop its “Envision Henderson” West Henderson Road Vision Plan. The study area runs from Stonehaven Drive/Chevy Chase Court on the west, to Reed Road on the east. The planning process will include an evaluation of prior studies and plans for the corridor, a review of existing regulations, meaningful public involvement to gather community input about the corridor, consideration of prospective regulations for future redevelopment opportunities, and an exploration of complete streetscape concepts to safely accommodate all users.

The final plan will highlight an aspirational, yet achievable vision for the corridor that will be supported by policy recommendations, recommended roadway and streetscape improvements, potential site concepts, and guidance for funding and implementation.

Phase 1 Activities

As part of the initial fact-finding process, the planning team has been conducting its first round of community engagement. This has included a series of stakeholder interviews, in-person and virtual community meetings, and pop-up displays at different community events and locations.

Pop-Up Schedule

Several pop-ups are scheduled in May:

- Somewhere In Particular Brewing: 3:30-5:30 pm, Wednesday, May 8, 5055 Dierker Rd.
- Spring Fling: 11 am-2 pm, Saturday, May 11, Sunny 95 Park, 4395 Carriage Hill Ln.
- UA Farmers Market: 3:30-6:30 pm, Wednesday, May 15, 2140 Tremont Rd.
- Sandwich Stroll: 10:30 am-Noon, Tuesday, May 21, Sunny 95 Park, 4395 Carriage Hill Ln.

Envision Henderson Engagement Hub

An interactive online project site is also available, where you can complete an online survey and share your thoughts and experiences with the W. Henderson Road Corridor. AND, please remember to share this link with your friends, family and community network.

Bob Crane Community Center Updates

We are happy to report that construction progress at the Bob Crane Community Center is continuing on schedule, and well within budget. With installation of the exterior finishes underway, the work taking place within the structure will no longer be visible to passersby, but this is when the interior transformation kicks into high gear.

On the ground level, work has begun to dig out the space that will become the swimming pool (shown top left), one of the central features of the 155,000 sq. ft. building. The pool will include lap lanes, a water slide, zero-depth entry and a play area for kids, and will have an adjacent party room so that families can enjoy pool parties.

Parking Deck Construction

A significant enhancement to the overall Kingsdale Redevelopment Project has begun – construction of a parking deck at the north end of the Giant Eagle parking lot. Scheduled for completion by early November, in plenty of time for the holiday season, the deck will provide a total of 310 spaces on two levels. This brings the total number of spaces to more than 900, significantly exceeding parking standards for a development of this size.

While the end result will be a welcome addition at Kingsdale, current parking and access has been significantly impacted. We ask for your patience and understanding through this phase of construction, and to please continue supporting the businesses at Kingsdale.

Accessing Kingsdale and Giant Eagle is still possible from the traffic light on Northwest Blvd, with motorists guided around the construction area to open parking area adjacent to Giant Eagle. If you are coming from the north or west of Kingsdale, we recommend using Tremont Road access points, and that you consider parking in the lots on the west side of Kingsdale. The parking garage for the apartment building is open and can be accessed from Ridgecliff Road.

You might also consider visiting during non-peak shopping hours. Other options to help reduce traffic congestion are to walk, bike or carpool.

Rooftop Solar Panels

Another exciting project – made possible thanks to a series of project costs coming in lower than budgeted – is the addition of rooftop solar panels. The panels will significantly offset operating costs, with projected savings of more than $50,000 per year, while advancing the City's sustainability goals.

A fun addition to this project is a real-time energy savings monitor that will be on display in the lobby.

The estimated carbon offset from adding these solar panels is 215 metric tons per year – the equivalent of removing every diesel-powered vehicle owned by the City from the road each year. The reduction in greenhouse gas emissions will contribute to a cleaner and healthier environment.

Installation of the solar panels will begin this Spring, and should be complete by the end of the summer.

2023 Community Award Recipients

UA is overflowing with groups and individuals who dedicate their time and energy to enriching lives and building community. A long-held tradition for the City each year is a celebration of the best in our community, through the annual Community Awards Program. As usual, many nominations were received for the 2023 awards program, and at the March 18 City Council Meeting, our recipients were presented awards in the following categories:

Business

Little Ones Pediatric Dentistry, Dr. Nicole Johnson

Dr. Johnson and her team were recognized for providing exceptional dental care and education for children and families, while also participating in various community activities.

Community Enrichment

Tri-Village Lions Club

Jane Jarrow and the Lions were the primary team behind the launch of the Tri-Village Packers program, which has brought together numerous civic and community groups in support of children experiencing food insecurity, starting with a Thanksgiving food assistance program.

Community Relations

Upper Arlington Civic Association

UACA seized the opportunity to launch a new community event focused on bringing neighbors together, with a special focus on new and newer families. The inaugural Neighbors Night Out event attracted more than 700 attendees, quickly establishing itself as a new UA tradition.

Senior

Howard Warner

Howard has been quietly contributing to the benefit of others his entire life. A barber by trade and former owner of Howard's Barber Shop on Lane Avenue, he has provided haircuts free of charge for orphaned and homeless children, helped prison inmates learn the barber trade, shaved the heads of women undergoing breast cancer treatment at the Over My Head Boutique at the Bing Cancer Center, and has helped immigrants become established as successful barber shop business owners. Never one to turn down an opportunity to serve, Howard is a founding member of the City's Community Relations Committee.

Youth

Wellington School Green & Apiary Clubs

Green and Apiary club students and faculty are making a positive difference on campus and beyond, developing and offering education about sustainable practices that balance the use and protection of natural resources while ensuring that all people can have healthy, productive, and fulfilling lives.

FROM CHAMBERS | Highlights of City Council & Its Policy Decisions

2024-25 UPPER ARLINGTON CITY COUNCIL

Community Improvement Corporation Dissolved

On April 15, City Council voted to dissolve the City's Community Improvement Corporation (CIC).

Originally formed in 1993, the CIC was a not-for-profit entity, guided by an advisory board of residents with experience in various aspects of economic development. Under Ohio Revised Code (ORC), CICs are able to purchase and sell property on a city's behalf, and can oversee the exploration of redevelopment plans and partnerships with developers. ORC requirements also include formal management and reporting mechanisms that generate annual administrative costs to the City.

Since the City has not utilized the CIC in several years, and has no plans to acquire additional property for prospective redevelopment projects, it was determined that the UA CIC had outlived its useful life.

Moving forward, the Administration will transition the members of the CIC to an advisory body for the City's economic development activities.

If at some point in the future, the City sees value in the tools available through a CIC, Franklin County's Central Ohio Community Improvement Corporation is available to support communities working to return distressed properties throughout the county back to productive use.

If you have questions about the City's economic development activities, please contact the City Manager's Office, at 614-583-5040 or via email: city.manager@uaoh.net.

UA CARES Paramedicine Program Expands

The City's Fire Division is expanding resources for its nationally recognized community paramedicine program, UA CARES, with the deployment of two vehicles, each staffed by dedicated community paramedics five days a week to further the City's commitment to providing exceptional healthcare and social support. This strategic move comes in response to the growing demand for accessible healthcare and social services, and underscores the division's dedication to serving the community.

Since its establishment in 2018, UA CARES has emerged as a vital lifeline for residents. The program is a collaboration of efforts between Fire, EMS, and police personnel. This interdisciplinary approach ensures a swift response to urgent needs identified by first responders, providing crucial support to the community in times of crisis.

The program has undergone several expansions to keep pace with growing demands. The integration of the former STAY UA program, initiated in 2009, into UA CARES has further enhanced service coordination and program management. UA CARES expanded its reach in 2021 to include police officers, enabling them to provide crucial follow-up care for mental health and substance use cases.

Fourth of July Reminders

UA's favorite holiday of the year will be here before we know it, and thanks to the tireless efforts of UA Civic Association volunteers, this year's event will be one to remember.

In the lead up to this year's events, we will be sharing a series of holiday reminders on our website and via the City Insight eNews, including:

- Block Party reminders
- Guidelines for placing chairs along the Parade route
- Day-of road closures and parking restrictions
- Holiday hours for Tremont Pool and Northam Tennis
- Fireworks safety reminders
- Pet safety reminders for the Parade and evening fireworks

Golf Cart Regulations

Please be advised that the City is taking golf cart safety seriously. In October 2023, City Council approved amendments to the City's Under Speed Vehicle legislation. Ordinance 49-2023 removed the five-day Fourth of July exemption for non-street-legal golf carts, with the exception of UACA's use of golf carts for the Parade, and any streets closed for a Block Party.

So please remember, only street legal, licensed and inspected golf carts are allowed on our roads. Any violations are subject to your vehicle being impounded and the driver ticketed.

Edwards Green

In March of this year, the Upper Arlington Community Foundation announced the gift of green space to the community, thanks to the family of Michael and Phaedra Edwards, in honor of their parents, Peter and Suzie Edwards. Edwards Green is located at Abington and Sherwin roads. Scheduled to open in July, the future public park spans .8 acres of land in the Canterbury neighborhood. Features will include floral gardens, inviting walking paths, a stacked stone wall, bench, and a relaxing space to enjoy nature in Upper Arlington.

Solid Waste Reminders

Solid Waste614-583-5350

Please take a few moments to familiarize yourself with various solid waste requirements, so that you are doing your part to ensure the program's ongoing success.

Screening Requirements - Households should keep trash and recycling containers out of view from the street, except when putting them at the curb before collection day. Options are to store the containers in an enclosed structure, such as your garage or shed. If that is not possible, containers should be stored to the side or rear of the residence and screened from street view. This can be accomplished with a natural landscaped barrier or with fencing that is a minimum of 42 inches in height. Full details of this requirement can be found within §7.15(A)4 of the UDO.

When to Put Containers at the Curb - In an effort to preserve community aesthetics, the City restricts the length of time that trash and recycling containers can be at the curb in advance of and following your collection day. Per UA Streets and Services Code §935.02, containers or materials for collection should not be placed at the curb any earlier than 6 pm of the day preceding collection day but must be out ready for collection by no later than 7 am of collection day. Following collection, containers must be removed from the curb and returned to their regular storage location by 7 am of the next day.

Correct Placement of Containers - For ease of access, trash and recycling containers should be placed on the grass median at least three feet apart from other items, and away from parked cars, so that crews have unobstructed access. Place containers with the lid openings on the facing into the street.

For full details, visit our Solid Waste Services page at upperarlingtonoh.gov.

CITY MANAGER UPDATE Steve Schoeny

Outdoor Noise Guidelines

Forgive me if I sound a little formal in this column, but I want to be clear (but not loud) about how the City regulates noise in the community, which is done in two ways:

Noise Ordinance

In general, Section 517.14 of City Code prohibits anyone from making "unreasonably loud, disturbing and unnecessary noises of such a character, intensity and duration as to disturb the peace and quiet of the community..." Without an Outdoor Entertainment Permit, the City considers noise above 60 decibels, 100 feet from the property line, to be in violation of the code.

Outdoor Entertainment Permits

City Code has additional regulations for the hiring of "outdoor entertainment," such as DJs or musical performers.

If you wish to hire any form of outdoor entertainment for an event at your home, you must apply for an Outdoor Entertainment Permit from the City Manager's Office, and obtain written permission from more than 50% of residents within 400 feet of your property.

The Outdoor Entertainment Permit allows your event to generate up to 80 decibels of noise at the property line. The City may issue permits for events running no later than 10 pm on Sundays through Thursdays, and 11 pm on Fridays and Saturdays, as well as on Federal holidays and the day prior to each holiday. Once you have collected signatures, bring the form back to the City Manager's Office, and within three business days, we will determine if you have reached the 50% threshold. At that time, you will be required to pay a $50 permit fee to receive your completed permit, which will clearly state the hours and decibel level allowed for your event.

Failure to obtain a permit, violation of these noise levels or falsification of any element of the application is subject to a fine of $200.

If you plan to have an event, but do not intend to hire outdoor entertainment, you must abide by the City's Noise Ordinance. As such, your event cannot make "unreasonably loud, disturbing and unnecessary noises of such a character, intensity and duration as to disturb the peace and quiet of the community..." As noted above, the City considers noise above 60 decibels 100 feet from the property line to be in violation of the City code if you do not have an Outdoor Entertainment Permit.

Even if you aren't planning to hire outdoor entertainment, you may choose to apply for an Outdoor Entertainment Permit and complete the above-listed process, to allow your event to generate noise higher than the normally acceptable levels. There is no charge for an Outdoor Entertainment Permit without paid entertainment.

For more on this permit process and to access an interactive map that allows you to identify the properties within 400 feet of your property line, visit the City Manager's Office webpage, at upperarlingtonoh.gov.

Tri-Village Packers Food Support Program Update

The Tri-Village Packers wishes to thank the individuals and civic groups who helped make the Spring Break food support program a huge success. Some highlights include:

- More than 150 volunteers gave over 300 hours preparing 4,000 food items for just over 100 bags.
- This included 31 customized bags to accommodate children with special dietary restrictions.
- 62 craft kits were assembled for children under 12 years of age, including High Five/Highlights magazines.
- Thanks to a grant from the UA Community Foundation and gifts from the UA and Tri-Village Rotary Clubs, more than $1,600 in grocery cards were also provided to help buy fresh produce and dairy products.

Watch for updates this fall, as the Packers make preparations for the 2024 Thanksgiving food distribution project.

To help sustain the Tri-Village Packers on an ongoing basis, support from the community is key. Visit the uacommunityfoundation.com/donate/ page on the Upper Arlington Community Foundation's website, and select the Tri-Village Packers Fund from the drop-down menu.

Lithium batteries supply power to many different kinds of devices, such as cell phones, laptops, toys, and even cars. If not used correctly or if damaged, these batteries can overheat and catch fire. Some guidelines for proper use include:

- Always follow the manufacturer's instructions
- Only use the battery that is designed for a specific device
- Only use the charging cord that came with the device
- DO NOT charge a device under a pillow or on a bed or couch
- Stop charging the device as soon as it's reached a full charge
- Don't charge batteries at temperatures above 105°F or below 32°F

Stop using a battery if you notice an odor, change in color or shape, too much heat, leaking or odd noises. If it's safe to do so, move the battery/device away from anything that could catch fire, then call 9-1-1.

BI-MONTHLY NEWS FROM UPPER ARLINGTON SCHOOLS

MAY | JUNE 2024

Strategic Planning Update

Since the start of the year, more than 75 volunteers have come together to work on the next strategic plan that draws from the innovative and collaborative vision of students, staff, parents/guardians and community members to define the future of education in the Upper Arlington Schools.

This spring, a panel of representatives from those volunteer teams will share an update with the community on the process so far and solicit suggestions and feedback in the next installment of the district's Listen Learn Lead community engagement series on Thursday, May 9 at 6 pm at Upper Arlington High School, 1625 Zollinger Road.

Here is an overview of the process so far, and what is coming up next.

Winter / Spring 2024: Strategic Inquiry Process

Feedback from three stakeholder engagement opportunities – Listen Learn Lead, Dr. Hunt's UAdventure series and the districtwide equity audit – has provided the foundation for the district's next strategic plan. Those primary data points are the result of a combined 8,700 touch points that represent a wide variety of stakeholders in our community, including students in grades K-12, staff, parents/guardians and community members.

That feedback has informed the work that began in the winter of 2024, as teams made up of more than 50 students, staff, parents/guardians and community members officially kicked off the strategic planning process. The volunteers on these three Strategic Inquiry Teams have been working to identify any additional resources and research needed to inform well-supported recommendations for the three draft priority areas based on stakeholder feedback opportunities: Engaged Learning, Well-Being and Engagement, and Connection and Communication – each strengthened by a focus on continuous improvement through Excellence and Innovation.

A fourth group of volunteers, the Strategic Coordination Team, made up of more than 25 parents/guardians, staff members and community members, has been meeting regularly to receive updates from each of the inquiry teams and provide feedback and direction.

SUPERINTENDENT UPDATES

Robert Hunt, Ph.D.

New Educational Pathways Will Give UAHS Students a Jump-start on Their Futures

Over the past year, through the Listen Learn Lead community engagement process launched by the Board of Education and my UAdventure series in the fall, I have heard from students, staff members and families about the importance of expanding the academic and career-based learning opportunities for our students to prepare them for success in their next steps in life. With that feedback in mind, I am excited to announce two important steps toward this.

In the fall, the High School will be launching new educational pathways for students for the 2024-2025 school year that will build on the exceptional programming already offered. In addition, Upper Arlington Schools is proud to be one of just 56 school districts to be awarded a new grant from the Ohio Department of Education and Workforce to support the launch of these innovative pathways.

"We are thrilled that Upper Arlington students are among the first to have access to these incredible new programs," said Upper Arlington Board of Education President Jenny McKenna. "These funds from the state will help us enhance their learning experiences."

The first of the two new pathways is the UC Early IT Microschool, a first-of-its-kind partnership with University of Cincinnati and the Past Foundation. This program will allow students to participate in a revolutionary educational experience that blurs the line between high school, college and the workforce while gaining industry credentials for careers in information technology.

The second new program is the Semiconductor Pathway in partnership with Columbus State Community College, which enables students to earn professional credentials for in-demand careers at organizations like Intel while earning high school and college credit.

The grant is a critical piece in greatly expanding opportunities for our students next year. It will provide $496,154 to purchase equipment and provide teacher professional development for the programs. It will also cover the costs of physical updates to the facility at 1950 North Mallway Drive, the former district office, that will support these learning pathways and other programs.

In addition to the UC Early IT Microschool and the Semiconductor Pathway, the High School will be launching two additional new programs: College Jumpstart, which will allow students to earn up to 24 college credits over two years while staying within the school district, and the Teaching Professions Pathway, which will allow students to gain experience to pursue a career in education.

Our students are among the very first to have access to these new opportunities – which will allow them to have the Upper Arlington High School experience while gaining college credit, real-world experience or professional credentials tuition-free. We are proud and excited to provide them with even more opportunities to set themselves up for success now and in their futures.

Robert Hunt, Ph.D., is the superintendent of Upper Arlington Schools.

Spring 2024: Stakeholder Feedback Opportunities

During the spring of 2024, there will be multiple opportunities for stakeholders to learn about the current status of the strategic planning process and provide feedback. This began with two Coffee & Conversation events that Superintendent Robert Hunt, Ph.D., held in March and continued in April with a meeting of the Teaching and Learning Team, made up of educators from across the district. Coming up in May, the district will host a Listen Learn Lead community engagement session on Thursday, May 9 at 6 pm at Upper Arlington High School. A panel of representatives from the Strategic Inquiry Teams will share an update with the community on their work and findings to date. There will also be an opportunity for stakeholders to provide feedback to the inquiry teams on their work.

Summer/Fall 2024: Development of an Implementation Plan

Based on feedback gathered during the spring of 2024, the Strategic Coordination Team and Inquiry Teams will finalize recommendations for each priority area to present to the Board of Education. Once the recommendations are finalized, district staff, including the Teaching and Learning Team, will work to develop an implementation plan beginning with the 2025-2026 school year. Additional feedback will be gathered on the draft implementation plan in the fall of 2024.

Treasurer's Notes

Andrew L. Geistfeld

This spring, Upper Arlington Schools published the 2023-2024 Financial Update, a key part of our commitment to providing clear and transparent communication about the state of the finances of the Upper Arlington Schools. This document provides our community with a concise look at the financial state of the district and the factors that will impact our financial situation in future years.

On our website at www.uaschools.org/treasurer, you can find the Financial Update and the following resources on district finances:

- Annual Audits: In addition to the internal Financial Update, Upper Arlington Schools also relies on external, third-party reviews of the district's finances. Each year, the state auditor's office sends a team to audit the Upper Arlington school district, delving into financial records and reviewing the district's practices. Upper Arlington Schools is proud to consistently earn a clean audit opinion and the Auditor of State Award, most recently for the 2022-2023 school year, recognizing our commitment to effective and accountable financial practices for the community.

- Five Year Forecast: The five year forecast is a legally required document that is completed twice a year, in November and May, and submitted to the Ohio Department of Education (ODE) following approval by the Board of Education. The document, which covers three years of actual data and five years of anticipated revenues and expenditures, provides an important check-in point for our district, so that we can keep a clear view on what future impacts and needs are.
- Monthly Financial Reports: The monthly financial reports offer an in-depth look at revenue collections, expenditures and the district's cash balance as it stands for the month and over the course of the fiscal year.

Thanks to a strong bond-investment strategy, higher interest rates, and the completion of construction on time and on budget with fewer change orders than expected, the district will also be able to address a significant facilities need eliminated in the first phase of the master plan. By utilizing remaining bond interest funds, we will move forward with window replacement in the older areas of Barrington Elementary School this summer, just as we did at Tremont Elementary School last year.

The summer projects also include renovation work, funded by a state grant, at the former district office at 1950 North Mallway Drive. This building will become the home of new educational pathways available to Upper Arlington High School students beginning this fall.

If you have additional questions about our district's finances, you can contact me at treasurer@uaschools.org.

Summer Projects

This spring, the district has been preparing for summer projects at its buildings. Several of these projects involve the typical maintenance you would expect – such as asphalt work at three buildings, roof repairs at Hastings Middle School, and track repairs and maintenance at the middle schools and high school.

Winter 2024/2025: Strategic Plan Launch

Based on all of the feedback gathered from stakeholders during the summer and fall of 2024, the district will finalize an implementation plan to present to the Board of Education for approval in January 2025.

UAHS Girls Swimming Wins 13th State Title

The UA High School girls swimming and diving returned to the top of the podium at the 2024 state championships in Canton on February 25, winning their first team title since 2017.

The girls team completed a championship sweep in three relays: the 200 medley (McCall Freiburger, Maren

Castle Playground Farewell Set for May

This spring, the new Wickliffe playground began taking shape, with the installation of new swings and spinners, thanks to initial fundraising efforts by a team of school and community volunteers. Following the end of the school year, the wooden castle structure, which has reached the end of its useful lifespan after being installed more than 30 years ago, will be removed.

The Wickliffe school community welcomes residents to be part of their farewell event for the castle playground on May 20 at 8:30 a.m. on the blacktop near the playground. This event will celebrate the castle playground's place in the history of Wickliffe and the Upper Arlington community.

This summer, a new play structure will be installed, thanks to funding from Upper Arlington Schools. The team of volunteers are continuing to fundraise – including a recent gift-matching campaign with Northwest Kiwanis that raised $40,000 – for the final phase of the project, which will include Earthscape play structures and help bring the unique personality of the Wickliffe community to the playground. To learn or to make a financial contribution, visit www.wickliffeplayground.com.

UAHS Orchestra Director Honored by Yamaha

Chris Lape, an orchestra director at Upper Arlington High School, has been honored as one of the top music educators in the country with the 2024 Yamaha "40 Under 40" Music Education

Excellence recognition for educators at the K-12, collegiate and professional levels across the country.

Lape was honored for growing the music program by adapting the curriculum from every-other-day to everyday instruction at the middle school level while serving as the orchestra teacher at Jones Middle School, prior to moving to the high school. With this change, he was able to bring innovative and engaging activities into the classroom – including a rock band project that allows students to work together to create their own arrangements and a "spooky" string sound FX story tied to Halloween.

Alumni Association Updates

- Celebrate a senior! Join the UA Alumni Association and UA Education Foundation as they celebrate this year's 483 graduating seniors! Each $10 tax-deductible donation will celebrate a member of the Class of 2024 by welcoming them to the Alumni Association. The student will receive an alumni t-shirt during graduation rehearsal. To donate, please visit www.bearalums.com.
- Mark your calendars! Join the UA Alumni Association at the High School Open House on Friday, July 5 from 12:30-3 pm. Prior to the open house, Jones Middle School will host its own open house from 9-11 am. This will be an opportunity for alumni, as well as community members and current students and families, to walk through the building and view historical displays and student work to commemorate its 100th birthday.

SERVE LEAD SUCCEED... SERVE LEAD SUCCEED

Second-annual hUmAn Connection Festival

The 2024 hUmAn Connection Festival on March 6 and 7 was a huge success! Started last year at Upper Arlington High School, the hUmAn Connection Festival celebrates culture, inclusion and understanding, and supports new connections within and beyond the UA community. This year, the festival expanded to include an evening community event in addition to the school day activities for high school students and staff. This year's hUmAn Connection Festival was offered with support from the Upper Arlington Education Foundation and the Upper Arlington Community Relations Innovations Small Grant Program.

Students learned about the science of flight in Elementary Explorations, building prototypes out of simple materials and then testing and troubleshooting until their creations soared gracefully in a wind tunnel.

Fourth-grade students at Barrington Elementary School culminated their study of Ohio history and "Wagon Train" simulation with a "Pioneer Day" of authentic, hands-on learning – including games like jacks.

Greensview Elementary School third-grade students went on a journey of discovery about the world beneath our feet, learning about rocks and soil with a lot of hands-on experiences.

SERVE LEAD SUCCEED... SERVE LEAD SUCCEED

Upper Arlington High School's production of "Mean Girls: High School Version" in March – with about 120 students involved – was "so fetch!"

More than 140 students transformed Hastings Middle School into East High School as they presented Disney's "High School Musical Jr." in March.

Twelve Upper Arlington High School students completed the requirements to earn Entrepreneurship and Small Business certification, giving them a strong foundation for a future in the business field.

In March, Upper Arlington High School celebrated 136 new student inductees into the National Honor Society, in recognition of their exceptional scholarship, service, leadership and character. They join 98 other current UAHS students who were inducted last year.

Jones Middle School's 100th birthday

This spring, Jones Middle School turned 100! On March 17, 1924, the building now known as Jones Middle School opened its doors as the first permanent school facility in Upper Arlington, serving students in grades 1-6. To celebrate this milestone birthday, students and staff curated a time capsule to be found by future generations, with Jones memorabilia, a 3-D printed fidget, a list of favorite songs and other items that reflect education and life in the year 2024. The Jones PTO also donated a new boulder with the name of the school, just like the boulders outside many other Upper Arlington schools. This summer, Jones Middle School will host a community open house to mark this milestone, coinciding with the Upper Arlington Alumni Association's UAHS Open House event. Jones will be open to visitors from 9-11 am on July 5.

'Norwester' Turns the Page With Its 100th Volume

This spring, as Upper Arlington High School prepares to celebrate its 100th graduating class, it will also publish the 100th volume of what is now known as the Norwester.

While the school "annual," as it was known at the time, was first published in 1923, the 1925 edition is officially labeled as volume one – coinciding with the opening of Upper Arlington's first school building, now known as Jones Middle School, and Upper Arlington's first graduating class.

Two years later, in 1927, the yearbook officially became known as the Norwester, likely in a nod to the name of the community's first magazine, The Norwester Magazine, published from November 1917 to March 1922.

In the thousands of pages published since volume one, the Norwester has chronicled the experience within and history of Upper Arlington's schools – including the origin of the Golden Bear mascot, which first appeared in the 1928 edition, and the change in school colors from orange and black to gold and black in the 1941 edition. It has also documented the opening of new school buildings – from the Jones building in 1924 to the Ridgeview Road high school in 1957 to the current building in 2021.

Norwester readership has ebbed and flowed with the changes in the schools, too. It initially served as a yearbook for students in grades 1 through 12, but that changed in 1939, when Barrington Elementary School opened its doors for students in grades 1-6. And, from 1956 to 1984, you'll find only grades 10-12 in the Norwester, because only those grades attended the Upper Arlington High School building on Ridgeview Road at that time.

You can explore the history of the Norwester, and find friends and family, at www.uaarchives.org.

A NOTE FROM OUR DIRECTOR

Beth Hatch

Our dedicated programmers excel at conceptualizing, planning, and executing these programs. While you may catch glimpses of them leading a craft session, storytime, or class, countless hours are devoted behind the scenes to meticulous preparation.

Following each program we are heartened by many positive comments and smiling faces. However, we're committed to delving deeper into the impact of our events. That's why we'll soon begin to collect some information from those who attend programs. In May, you'll start to see check-in stations at many of our events. Simply take a few seconds to scan your library card at the station, whether it's your physical card or the digital one available in our app.

Don't have your card or know your number? You can enter your email address. And if you don't have a UAPL card yet, it's the perfect time to get one.

This data will empower us to make informed decisions regarding program offerings, optimize our use of space, compile accurate reports, solicit feedback, and inform you about additional programs tailored to your family's interests.

Be assured that, as with all Library transactions, information collected is strictly for Library use only. We will never compromise your trust by selling your information.

If you're a regular – or even an occasional – visitor to our buildings, you've undoubtedly noticed that our programs and events are popular with patrons of all ages. In fact, 2023 marked our most successful year to date for programs. We hosted over 1,200 sessions, attracting more than 55,000 attendees!

The Wishing Game

By Meg Shaffer

This is a heartwarming and heart wrenching story of the magical impact books have on children and adults alike. The Clock Island series of children's books allowed Lucy Hart and other kids the chance to survive broken childhoods. The story comes full circle when the author decides decades later to hold a contest for some of those same children to see who can make their wish come true. Will it be Lucy? And what is her wish? But even as an adult it will take courage and patience. It's a must read for every book lover and anyone who has ever made a wish.

If You See Them:

Young, Unhoused, and Alone in America

By Vicki Sokolik

Sokolik shares the story of how she came to know so many unhoused and alone youth in Hillsborough County, Florida, where she resides, and all over the United States. What started with her family providing holiday meals to in-need families to her son bringing home a homeless classmate, Sokolik begins her journey of meeting and helping youth that the system forgot. Many of the kids escaped abusive households or were kicked out of their homes and survive on school meals, locker room showers, and any work they can find. These youth were forgotten by the system, without a grown-up to guide them or access to needed records such as social security numbers or birth certificates. Telling their own stories within this book, these youth then rely on us to continue to tell their story so that they are never forgotten. .

Everyone on This Train Is a Suspect

By Benjamin Stevenson

Ernest Cunningham has found himself back in the center of a classic whodunit murder mystery of the same flavor as Agatha Christie or Arthur Conan Doyle. He is a charming narrator that every reader can rely upon for accurate information – including how many times he mentions the murderer's name in the book. The reader gets a cast of characters who embark on a murder mystery writing festival aboard a train. This time everyone on the train has studied how to not only commit murder but also to get away with it. Between the isolation of the train, patchy cell service, and tangled character backstories, it makes for an exciting read and satisfying conclusion.
